6.3 Until ownership of the Goods has passed to the Buyer, the Buyer must:

(i) hold the Goods on a fiduciary basis as the Company's trustee;

(ii) store the Goods (at no cost to the Company) separately from all other goods of the Buyer or any third party in such a way that they remain readily identifiable as the Company's property (unless installation by the Company shall not allow for such separate storage);

(iii) the Buyer alters or repairs such Goods without the written consent of the Company.

9.4 Subject to conditions 9.2 and 9.3, if any of the Goods do not conform with any of the warranties in condition

8.8 While any payments by the Buyer to the Company are outstanding the Company reserves the right to suspend the supply of further Goods or provision of any services until all outstanding amounts have been paid in full.

9. Warranty, returns & repairs

9.1 The Company warrants that (subject to the other provisions of these conditions) (i) at the point of delivery or installation the Goods will be of merchantable quality, be reasonably fit for the Intended Purpose (if a purpose is expressly and clearly stipulated) and (ii) operate during the Warranty Period substantially in accordance with the technical specification for the relevant Goods (as published by the Company from time to time or available from the Company upon request).

The Buyer shall, where there is no valid warranty claim, be liable to pay for the postage of the Goods by the Company to the Buyer.

The Buyer will also be able to authorise third parties to access the Account. The Buyer is solely responsible for any third party which it allows to access the Account and the Company has no liability for any loss, damage or claim (whether from misuse of data or otherwise) relating to such third party access to, and use of, the Account.
